

DAILY BARGAINS

Special Display Prices.
FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Chenille Table Covers.

4-quarter, with heavy fringe..... 48c
6-quarter, with heavy fringe..... 78c
8-quarter, with heavy fringe..... $1.68

Folding Screens.

2-fold Screen—44 inches wide, 52 inches high. Silkline, with oak frame..... $1.48
3-fold Screen—20 inches wide, 62 inches high. Silkline, with oak frame..... $1.98

Banquet Lamps.

18 inches high, with silk shade—very handsome. Complete..... $2.98

Down Pillows.

The varied, 18x36..... 48c
20x30..... 68c
24x36..... $1.08

Wash. B. Williams,

Furniture, Carpets, Drapery,
7th and D Sts. N. W.

BIG ROW IN THE REICHSTAG.

Herr Bebel scored the Kaiser in a speech delivered yesterday on the occasion of the delivery of a speech by Herr Bebel, one of the socialist leaders, in regard to the recent prosecution of socialists and the closing of the Reichstag by the government.

In the course of his speech Herr Bebel made a violent attack upon the emperor because of the speeches delivered by his majesty on Sedan day and more recently at Breslau, referring to the Kaiser as "a certain somebody."

President Von Bülow-Berengh called Herr Bebel to order, but latter continued in continuing his remarks in the same strain. A great uproar ensued, in the midst of which Herr Singer's voice was heard above the din, crying, "We are insulted."

When quiet was finally restored the president threatened to stop Herr Bebel entirely unless he confined his remarks within the limits of decency and parliamentary rule, whereupon Bebel retorted: "How is it possible to limit the words of a man who is speaking of the question of abolition of the Law of May 1878?"

Herr Bebel then proceeded in a passionate speech to criticize the government's recent prosecution of socialists. He declared that the present conditions prevailing in civilized States precluded the possibility of a revolutionary party obtaining victory through the use of force, therefore, agitation by means of speeches and dissemination of literature was justifiable.

General Bismarck von Schellendorf, imperial minister of war, interrupting, declared that a tremendous uproar on the part of the Reichstag had been caused by the speech of the Kaiser, during the session of the Reichstag, that during the session the socialists were very dirty and vulgar.

His majesty, however, was unable to quell the memory of the great Kaiser, but nevertheless the army would never forget the depravity of the socialists upon that occasion.

SMYTH ELECTED MAYOR.

Democrats and A. P. A.'s Events.

Divide the Aldermen.

Charles S. C. Dec. 12.—The complete, but unofficial returns from the municipal election show that Smyth, the Democratic candidate, was elected mayor of Charleston for the next four years, by a majority of 278 votes. The Democrats elected 12 out of 24 aldermen, the other twelve being chosen by the A. P. A.

This gives the Democracy the city by Mayor Smyth's casting vote. The board of aldermen is an excellent one, and the coming council is pledged to the commercial and industrial development of the city's resources.

Indicted Thirty-five Times.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 12.—A. K. Ward, the forger, who was captured and brought back to Memphis, after a sojourn in Honduras, was indicted thirty-five times yesterday for forgery as many notes. The amount of forged notes was $60,000. Twenty more notes were to be returned this evening or tomorrow. Ward has employed good lawyers and will make a fight on the line of a general denial.

Drummer Swallowed Poison.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 12.—W. H. Lantz, a traveling man for the Genoa Electrical Company, of Buffalo, N. Y., was found dead in bed yesterday at the Randolph Hotel. It is supposed that he swallowed poison with suicidal intent, as he left a note requesting officers to notify relatives at Pekin, Ill. He was thirty years old, and well dressed, and was last seen alive yesterday noon.

Canada's Comptroller Resigns.

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 12.—Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, comptroller of customs in the Dominion government, yesterday forwarded his resignation to Premier Bowell, at Ottawa. Wallace is sovereign grand master of the Orange Order in British America, and his resignation is the result of a disagreement with the government policy on the Manitoba school question.

Christmas Very Near.

Few people realize how near at hand Christmas really is, but shoppers who pass along on crowded thoroughfares cannot help noticing the preparations made by our leading merchants. "Johnstons," the best anti-street grocers, are filling one of their four large windows with ten thousand pounds of mixed goods, and another with fine French candy. The remaining window will be used to display the 100-piece decorative china sets, the handsome banquet lamps, holiday albums and other beautiful articles on their premium list, which are to be given away to their customers.

"A STITCH IN TIME."

If your kidneys are diseased, sluggish or weak;

If your blood is full of uric acid and Rheumatism threatens;

If the germs of Malaria are in your system;

If your blood is clogged with poisons and impurities;

If your bladder is weak, inflamed or diseased;

You need Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

For they heal, soothe and strengthen the kidneys.

They prevent Bright's Disease, they cure Diabetes, they dissolve gravel, sand, and brick-dust deposits, they filter uric acid and malarial poisons out of the blood, they cure Gout, Rheumatism, and all the other ailments of the blood.

All druggists, 50 cents a box, or send 50 cents in stamps, or silver, direct to the Home's Medicine Co., Chicago or San Francisco.

Book on Kidney Health and Blood Purifying Free.

TEN DOLLARS A FORTUNE

Host of Christmas Presents to Be Bought With It.

GIFTS FOR PLAIN PEOPLE

Four of the Shops Reveal Any Quantity of Useful and Appropriate Articles That Can Be Purchased for Little or Nothing—How to Provide for the Pleasure of a Few.

"This Christmas gift question is getting to be a menacing phantom," exclaimed an every-day sort of a man, throwing down the paper in which he had been reading a list of things that might be given a lady. Then he went on to say that he didn't propose to bankrupt himself and mortgage his soul just to get a lot of stuff for people that nobody wanted or at least that nobody cared for.

"Who do you propose to remember this year?" he asked.

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

THE EVENING TIMES, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1895.

Host of Christmas Presents to Be Bought With It.

GIFTS FOR PLAIN PEOPLE

Four of the Shops Reveal Any Quantity of Useful and Appropriate Articles That Can Be Purchased for Little or Nothing—How to Provide for the Pleasure of a Few.

"This Christmas gift question is getting to be a menacing phantom," exclaimed an every-day sort of a man, throwing down the paper in which he had been reading a list of things that might be given a lady. Then he went on to say that he didn't propose to bankrupt himself and mortgage his soul just to get a lot of stuff for people that nobody wanted or at least that nobody cared for.

"Who do you propose to remember this year?" he asked.

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."

"Who's first of the 48?"

"At this rate, nobody," and he showed his hands deep in his pockets and kicked the paper he had thrown down.

The interlocutor then offered to wager that $10 more could be made to do without. He declared that it could be made to wrap up the Christmas presents and put it to sleep.

The every-day man said, "Poon!" and looked at his watch.

"Any more money bagged out of him by wagers, but he consented to take a notebook and go shopping for prices."